Three Great Stallions Show Their Speed at Mystic Park.

Directum Defeats Arion and Nelson in Straight Heats in 2:12, 2:10, 2:11 1-4, Fast Time for New England.

GOOD TIME AT COLUMBUS

Dolly Spanker Paces in 2:10 1-2, but Lottie Loraine Wins.

Cantab, Black Raven and Col. Dickey Capture the Other Events-Racing at Anderson and Various Points.

MEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 26.-The biggest crowd that ever assembled on a track in New England gathered at Mystic Park this afternoon to witness the greatest stallion race ever contested in the East. The race was between Directum, Arion and Nelson. When the stallions were given the word the second time they came down the track, Nelson was almost half a length behind the others. Directum had the pole, with Arion second and the Maine horse on the outside. The quarter pole was reached in thirty-three seconds, with Directum a neck ahead of Arion and Nelson half a length behind. The half was made in 1:06 and the three-quarters in 1:38, with the same positions. Not once did the horses skip or balk, and they turned into the stretch, going as steadily as clockwork. The black finished half a length ahead of Arion, with Nelson lagging a length behind. Time, 2:12.

The trio started in the second heat with Nelson slightly in the lead. At the quarter John T. (J. T. Manlove)... 4 pole he still led Directum, with Arion al- Eyelight (Griffith Garten)..4 1 3 most a length in the rear. At the half the Maine trotter had increased his lead to a length, and the crowd almost went wild with enthusiasm. Then Directum spurted, and at the third quarter was a length in the lead, with Arion and Nelson neck and neck. In the stretch Nelson dropped behind and finished three lengths in the rear of Directum, who led Arion by a length. The time was: Quarter, :311/2; half, 1:033/4; three-quarters, 1:37; mile, 2:10. This was the best time of the day, and the fastest old colt, went in 20 seconds. Both are mile ever trotted over Mystic Park track

When the horses got off again Nelson was half a length behind. At the quarter Di-rectum was a neck ahead of Arlon, but a few seconds later the latter created a stir by creeping past him. A little past the half, however, Directum again drew to the front, and at the three-quarters pole he led Arion by a length, and he finished two length ahead, with Nelson over three day's events:

Germans and Others Experimenting with Maize in the Manufacture of Beer-Chance for California.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.-The Departof Agriculture is watching with great interest for the results of experiments in Germany with Indian corn in the making of beer. It is said that over half as much corn as barley is used in this country by brewers. A great brewing school at Berlin is now making experiments with Indian corn, and the official report of the authorities upon them is looked for with interest. The reports from the department's agent indicate that the experiments are proving successful, and that the beer from maize is well liked by the Germans. The German laws are stringent about regulating brewing, and require the use of barley, so that it was necessary to get a special permit for the use of corn, even at this brewing school, which is an institution to which are sent the sons of wealthy brewers who are to succeed to that business in all parts of Germany. Several brews with Indian corn have already been made there. The laws regulating the brewing materials, as well as the agrarian movement in Germany and the protective duties, are drawbacks to extending the use of corn for brewing in that country. In Denmark there are not these difficulties, and the outlook for extended use of corn in brewing is better. The same is true in Holland and In these countries corn has been found to give satisfaction to the brewers, so much so that they have ordered second consignments of corn at their own expense. In England there is already quite an extensive use of corn in beet making, with prospects of an increase. The outlook for the use of cornmeal in place of rye in Germany is not very flattering, partly on account of the present high price of corn. The head of the German Health Department has, however, made official annual polynomials. nouncement that in years when rye is scarce and high-priced Indian cornmeal is the best material to mix with it to cheap-

The department has some very interesting accounts of the growth of consumption and increased favor of American wines abroad. A catalogue received from a prominent wine dealer in London gives a list of places in England where California wines are sold. The list includes some of the leading hotels and clubs in London. A member of this firm was sent to the world's fair by the British government to report on American wines. His report has not yet been made. The firm's trade mark is a big tree, and a recent printing order for lithograph work designed to advertise these wares cost $12,000. This gentleman, when in this country, called upon G. W. Hill, chief of the division of records at the Department of Agriculture and expressed his amazement that it was difficult to get American wines at leading hotels in this country, and that American hotel keepers and wine dealers were inclined to discredit these native products. This Englishman also expressed the conviction that the de-pendence of the world in the future for brandy grapes would have to be on this country. During the year the German mil-itary authorities have contracted for the military supply of brandy with California companies. The order is for nearly 200,000 gallens. California wines are also beginning to attract attention in Denmark, Holland and Belgium. One difficulty in intro-ducing American wines into Europe is that their wine dealers are accustomed to a year's credit, while American dealers are loath to grant more than sixty days. American wine makers have not yet learned the secret of caring for their product while it is ageing. As a result the foreign dealers buy it while new and hold it while it is ageing, which requires that capital be kept locked up a long time. At the Ant-werp Exposition the jury of awards had adjourned before the exhibit of California wines arrived, but was reconvened to pass upon them, and voted them a gold medal. While the cruiser Chicago was in England the agent of the Agricultural Department sent a case of California wines to Admiral Erwin. At one of the many dinners given to English officials of high station on board the Chicago these wines were upon the table, and elicited many encomiums from

Debs Strike Inquiry Closed. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.-The United States commission appointed by the President to investigate the Chicago strike, consisting of Commissioner of Labor Wright, ex-Commissioner of Labor Kernan, of New York, and Judge Worthington, of Illinois, reassembled at the Department of Labor in this city to-day to hear any further testimony which should be volunteered. Only two witnesses appeared. The first was A. J. Ambler, of this city, who claimed that his wife owned the Pullman truck patents, which were the basis of Pullman's gigantic fortune, and who wanted to be heard on questions arising out of this claim, and a local temperance enthusiast, The commission promptly refused to go into these questions. There being no further witnesses, Colonel Wright, chairman of the commission, then, in accordance with the public notice given, declared the public hearings closed, and the commission went into secret session to discuss the report to be made to the President.

Cleveland to Arbitrate. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 .- Notice has been received by the State Department from Mr. Sleeper, the United States secretary of legation and consul-general at Carthagena, that the Colombian and Italian governments have signed a treaty submitting to the arbitration of the President of the United States the claim for reparation and indemnity of the Italian subject Cerruti. This man was arrested in Colombia on what the Italian government insists was a baseless and unwarranted charge, and was imprisoned for a long time. Italy finally secured his release, and followed this up with a demand for indemnity, which was refused by Colombia. For a time the negotiations had an ugly look, but, as noted, both parties have consented to submit the case to an impartial umpire, and President Cleveland will undoubtedly accept the task of arbitrating the difference.

BISHOP HURST'S TALK

GLOWING EULOGY ON THE METHOD-IST CHURCH'S MISSION WORK.

First Session Southeast Indiana Conference-Quakers at the Yearly Meeting in Richmond.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Sept. 26 .- The forty-third session of the Southeast Indiana Conference of the Metnodist Episcopal Church began its deliberations proper here this morning, with Bishop John F. Hurst in the chair. This is the fourth time in the history of Indiana Methodism that Shelbyville has entertained the Methodist conference. The devotional exercises were followed by the observation of the sacrament of the Lord's supper. Rev. L. D. Moore, of Greensburg, was re-elected secretary for the coming year. Bishop Hurst, in his greeting, said:

"This is the fourth conference I have attended in Indiana, and I find, in looking into your faces, that you are no better looking nor worse looking than the others. Many of your heads are frosted with years of toil in your Master's vineyard, and many of your faces glow with the enthusiasm of youth. There are no braver men in all the world than the members of the Indiana conferences. The sons are doing the work of their fathers, and there are many young men ready to take your places when you retire. Just as good work is being done now as was done by John Wesley. We ought to do better work, for we have the heritage they left us to begin with. In the missionary field the progress has been phenomenal. In 1856 the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church sent out one man, a raw Irishman named William Butler, who was instructed to work at any place along the valley of the Ganges, a distance of three thousand miles. In India at that time the great mutiny was going on, and he was forced to flee for his life. Now, instead of a single man, a fugitive, we have four conferences in India. Bishop Thoburn, the present Bishop of India, will be present at this session and tell us of the year's work.

"I was in Rome, Italy, in 1868, and was not allowed to carry my Bible on the streets, but was compelled to leave it without the city. No Protestant services were allowed within the city except under the flag of a foreign country, and then only in the strictest privacy. Now we can hold services whenever we choose. Last year was a year of revivals of Methodism all over the world. Our collections for missionary purposes have been greatly reduced, but the work in the field has not been reduced. Not a single missionary has been duced. Not a single missionary has been recalled, but we are pushing forward constantly in every direction. The ministers of to-day are as brave as those of any former generation, and they will willingly stand privations and exposures for the cause. I know that the deliberations of this session will be characterized with the spirit of fairness and toleration. May we all so live that when we come to leave this world we may know that every day has been a blessing and every hour a benediction." William Newkirk was elected treasurer, with E. P. Jewett and John A. Young assistants. A. R. Beach was elected statis-

Rev. Dr. J. M. Freeman, secretary Sunday School Union and Tract Society; Dr. J. Benson Hamilton, Dr. Vigus, of the American Bible Society; Dr. Rawlins, of the Western Christian Advocate, and Rev. Sparks, of the South Kansas Conference, were introduced and granted the privilege of addressing the conference. Dr. Ralston, of the Indiana Conference, stated that that conference had voted unanimously in favor conference had voted unanimously in favor of lifting the line between the two conferences, and, on motion, the discussion of that question was made the special order of business for Thursday morning, after reading the minutes.

At the afternoon session Dr. Jay Benson Hamilton, of Hackettstown, N. J., delivered an address in the interest of the veterans' fund. His subject was "The World's Greatest Money-maker," and he showed that the church and her ministry increased that the church and her ministry increased the value of property wherever they were established, and that the church and the people owed a debt to the man who had made it possible for them to enjoy the fruits of their predecessors' early toil and privation. The address was a masterly effort, and attracted much attention to the cause. William Serber and wife, of Shelby county, who a short time ago deeded forty-six acres of the richest land in the county to the Preachers' Aid Society, were introduced and given a warm greeting.

The purpose of the deed was to make a permanent home for the superannuated and retired ministers. A draft for $8,031 was presented from the Methodist Book Concern to the conference for their claim-

In the evening occurred the anniversary of the Missionary Society, Rev. Dr. Tinsley, of Jeffersonville, preaching a rousing missionary sermon. The society elected as president J. T. O'Neal; vice president, C. W. Tinsley; secretary, W. C. Watkins; board of managers, E. h. Wood, C. C. Edwards and F. S. Tincher, To-morrow afternoon Rev. V. W. INDIANA YEARLY MEETING. Large Attendance at the First Session in Richmond.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 26.-The Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends began its sesdons here this morning, the attendance be ing large for the first day. The clerk, Elwood O. Ellis, of Fairmount, called the meeting to order, and after a few minutes of impressive silence the congregation joined in singing "Coronation," and a very religious feeling prevailed. Several ministers then made short exhortations, after which the clerk read the minutes and called the roll of delegates and alternates, a larger number answering to their names than at any Yearly Meeting before. The minutes were examined and approved. Minutes of the following visiting Friends were read and approved: James R. Jones. from Greensburg, N. C.; Lindley A. Wells, Barclay, Kan.; Franklin and Mary W. Meredith, Morgan county; Hannah P. Jessup, Plainfield; Thomas Miller, Miami Monthly Meeting; Dr. William Coffin, California; Aaron Cosanant and the converted Jew, Albert J. Nathan. The following commit-tees were appointed:

White, Elkanah Beard, Seth Stafford, Joseph Dick-inson, J. P. Bogue, James A. Goddard. Epistolary correspondence was read from the Dublin and Whitewater Monthly Meetings in regard to keeping a record of the marriages, and a committee was appointed, consisting of the following members, to formulate a plan: Eli Jay, Thomas N. White, H. B. Bailey and Luke S. Mots. The meeting for women convened at the same time as the above, and a short time was devoted to devotional service. The names of delegates were called and most of them responded. Minutes from visiting ministers were read and approved and the ministers were read and approved and the London and Dublin epistles were read. Committees were appointed, the chief one being to prepare epistles to the various sister Yearly Meetings. It consists of the following: Rhoda M. Hare, Jachel S. Bailey, Jemima White, Lucy H. Binford, Hannah Lawrence, Mary T. Kramer, Estel Cook, Flora P. Mills, Hannah D. White, Alice Woodard, Ella Hartley, Jennie Gray, Mary Burson, Mary White, Eliza J. Hill, Ella J. Davis, R. J. Stafford and Louisa Wickersham. At the meeting this afternoon there were more people present from a distance than was ever known in the history of this Yearly Meeting. The London general epistle was read and ordered printed for distribution among the members. This epistle is printed in London and sent to all the yearly meetings of the world, and is considered of great interest to all Friends, as it is the latest considerations of the doctrines and usages of the general church." The forty-third annual report of the cen-tral book and tract committee was read, and it showed that since the last report there had been printed 900,000 pages of tracts, which, added to past astributions, makes 60,700,000 pages. The report of the central committee on peace and arbitration was read. It showed that over 70,000 peace tracts have been published, 117,000 bound volumes have been sent out, and a number of lecturers maintained in the field. The peace association has been organized and incorporated, so that it can be authorized to receive bequests and legacies. This evening a meeting was held by Abram J. Nathan, the converted Jew.

New Albany Presbytery. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SALEM, Ind., Sept. 26.-The semi-annual meeting of the New Albany Presbytery is in session with the Presbyterian Church at this place. This presbytery covers a territory of six counties, with forty-four churches and thirty-eight ministers. About thirty ministers are present and a number of delegates and visitors. Rev. Van Duyn, of Mitchell, the retiring moderator, preached the opening sermon Tuesday evening. After organization Rev. C. O. Shirey, of North Vernon, was chosen moderator, Rev, Prugh, of Corydon, and Bu-ford Tyler, of Utica, temporary clerks, Dr. A. Y. Moore, of Hanover, being permanent clerk. A devotional service, led by Rev. Broady, of Lexington, at 8 a. m., followed by regular business meeting during the day. The presbytery will continue in session two days. The reports of standing committees were given to-day.

LIBERTY'S NAME

GERMAN CATHOLICS DEMAND THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE POPE,

And as American Citizens They Demand for Parents the Right to Choose Their Schools and Teachers.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 26 .- At the business meeting of the German-American Catholic congress, this afternoon, the following declaration of principles and resolutions were

"Resolved, That in future, instead of annual, blennial German speaking congresses be held at the same time and place at which the Catholic Central Society may decide to hold its meeting hereafter.

"Resolved, That words of heartfelt thanks be transmitted to Mgr. Satolli, papal delegate, for his very kind approbation and blessing granted to the congress.

"We again express our filial love and reverence to our Holy Father, Leo XIII. And in the name of that liberty bestowed upon His church by God himself, we declare that the first condition of such liberty consists in the entire independence of the head of the Catholic Church from every earthly power. The only solution of the Roman question acceptable to us Catholics must therefore imply the territorial inde-pendence of the Holy See, the terms for which to be stipulated by the Holy Father

"As free American citizens we claim for parents the right to choose the schools and teachers to whom they want to intrust the instruction of their children. As Catholics we therefore claim the right to establish and govern our parochial schools in accord ance with our ecclesiastical superiors, and to develop them by all available means. Al-though the sacrifices we make in founding and maintaining our parochial schools are great and heavy, we nevertheless expressly declare that we do not ask for our schools any state aid. We assume most willingly those burdens in order to secure the eternal and true temporal welfare of our children. Finally, the fact that in the schools of our German-American parishes our children are learning along with the language of our country the German tongue will certainly not diminish their aptitude for business and social intercourse in after life.

"We emphatically condemn the excessive use and abuse of intoxicating liquors. And also the evil and predominating American habit, the so-called 'treating.' This evil custom, almost unknown in Germany, has been and is the primary cause of intemperance in all stages of society in this country."

Another public meeting was held at the Auditorium to-night. The following addresses were delivered: Rev. P. Maxmillian Schoeffer, O. I. F., "The Society of the Holy Family;" Herr M. Abele, "The School Question;" Herr Edward Neuhaus, "The Mission of the Press."

The Mothers' Convocation. CHICAGO, Sept. 26 .- Miss Elizabeth Harrison addressed the National Mothers' Convocation at the Kindergarten College today upon the necessity of wholesome stories for the development of the child mind. Miss Grace Fulmer, of Chicago, followed with an address upon the same topic, and told several entertaining stories as an illustration. The attendance at the convocation to-day was very large, particularly from outside cities.

PARK THEATER--EXTRA THIS AFTERNOON AND TO-NIGHT!

The Manager of the Park Theater, Dayton, O., wrote the following to Dickson & Talbott, yesterday: "Grenier's Lyceum Vaudeville Company, now playing here, is the best we have ever had, and you cannot speak too highly of it. The people composing the company are absolutely firstclass, and their business here has been enormous. I would like to have them for a return date anytime. The show is clean and refined, and every person in the company an artist. Try to arrange a return date, for the attraction is one of extraordinary strength."

This fine company appears for the first time in Indianapolis this afternoon at the Park Theater. It will remain the attraction the rest of this week. LOOK AT THESE NAMES:

LIZZIE AND VINIE DALY, The Dancing Wonders. CRIMMINS AND GORE, "What Are the Wild Waves Saying!"
